

Imperial War Museum – Duxford

To coincide with our World War Two topic, Oak class visited the Imperial War Museum at Duxford on 25th February. It was fantastic to see some of the fighter planes up close including a Spitfire, a Hurricane, a Vulcan, a Messerschmitt and a Lancaster. We even got to go on board Concorde; for some children it was their first time ever on a plane!

During our workshop, we met some people who were alive during WW2. They helped us identify some WW2 artefacts and what they were used for. We had great fun using the artefacts, dressing up in 1940s clothes and playing games which children used to play during war times. We had a super day – so much so – that some of us plan to go back with our families soon.
